

Excuse the intrusion again, but this is I Witness News again interrupting your evening. We are standing in a stable with a group of shepherds that have just come running through town searching for a baby that angels told them about. Let's see if we can get the whole story from this fellow over here.

Hi there. I was wondering if you could tell me, and all our readers, what is going on here.

Well, we were out in the field, like on any other night, and the sky got bright and we heard music. Don't tell anyone but I was actually almost asleep when it happened.

It was the middle of the night? Why did the sky get brighter? Was there a fire nearby? Maybe we should go help put it out instead of standing here waiting for the whole town to burn down.

No, it's nothing like that. There was no fire. There were angels and they were singing and rejoicing and telling us that we were the first ones to hear about the Messiah being born.

Angels? Why did they come to you? Aren't you just shepherds? Are you telling me that this baby here is the Messiah?

That's what the angels said. One of them was named Gabriel and he told us exactly what to look for to find THE child that God had promised to send to save us all.

God told you this?

No, the angels told us about it but they were sent by God and told what to say.

We at I Witness News have learned that when God says something, you had better be listening. I Witness News will be following the life of this baby to see what He does that makes him so special. Stay tuned for future developments.
