

"Come over here precious one. I just want to hold you. Just because I love you. Everything else can wait for a while. It will all still be there later. Just let Me hold you for a bit."

"You are loved regardless of what you do.
You are worth loving because I made you."

"We will take care of everything else at the proper time. You need to learn this lesson first and truly believe it."

PLEASE help me truly believe this and live it
EVERY DAY.
