

Ladies and gentlemen, we are interrupting you again to share some of the most amazing news ever. I Witness News is honored to bring you this news in the midst of this dark time.

Last week you will recall, the man Jesus, whom we have been following for some time was crucified. It was the most devastating news ever heard by this reporter. There were many who believed that He was indeed the Son of God. This would be the same God that we met for the first time after the "Creation" event. I'm not going to go into the details because it still haunts this reporter's nightmares just thinking of the cruelty of it all.

Today, however, we have been told by His most trusted friends, that He is no longer dead but is in fact alive. Here with us now is Mary Magdalene to share her account of this morning's activities.

Mary, what is it that has convinced you that Jesus is alive?

He told me Himself. He stood right over there by the garden and told me who He was.

Could this have been an imposter posing as Jesus to confuse everyone?

No. I have spent a lot of time under Jesus' teachings and seen so many amazing things He has done. There is no way I would mistake an imposter for my Lord.

But I thought you said earlier that you mistook Him for the gardener at first.

I did tell you that earlier. The fact is that I was so distraught after coming to His tomb and finding it empty that I was not thinking straight. When we got here, me and two other devoted women, and found the stone rolled away and the tomb empty we didn't know what to do. An angel actually told us what had happened, but being in such a deep state of despair it was like listening through a fog. When Jesus spoke directly to me in the midst of my pain, I recognized His gentle touch on my soul. That's how I know for sure that it was Jesus who spoke to me.

This reporter for one is overjoyed to know that Jesus is alive and in no shortage of extraordinary power. I Witness News signing off now with hope once again as we rejoin our watch on Jesus, His amazing story, and the promises of God.
